COURT SUSPENDS
MLA BHARTI'S CONVICTION AND SENTENCING IN ASSAULT CASE

HT Correspondent
htreporters@hindustantimes.com

NEW DELHI: A Delhi court on Thursday suspended the conviction and sentence awarded to Malviya Nagar Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) MLA Somnath Bharti in a 2016 assault case at the AIIMS, pending the outcome of his appeal filed before a higher court. The new order has kept alive Bharti's chances to continue as a legislator.

Under the Representation of the People's Act, a legislator stands disqualified upon being sentenced to jail for a minimum of two years.

The membership of the house is lost with immediate effect.

The legislator then has to obtain a stay on the conviction to remain a member of the house – a mere suspension of sentence or jail term will not suffice.

On Thursday, special judge Vikas Dhull said the appeal hearing, challenging the order of the magistrate court, was going to take time. The judge also directed Bharti to pay a personal bond of ₹20,000 and produce one surety of like amount.

"Since the appeal is going to take considerable time for disposal and having regard to grounds set out in the appeal, the application filed by the convict/appellant is allowed and conviction order dated January 22 and sentence order dated January 23 are suspended during the pendency of this appeal.....," the judge said in his order.

Bharti, through his counsels Mohammad Irshad and Pritish Sabharwal, had filed a plea challenging the conviction and sentence awarded to him for breaking the fencing of a boundary wall of AIIMS with an earth-mover on September 9, 2016.

He was accompanied by 300 others, according to the complaint to by RS Rawat, chief security officer, AIIMS.

The court had convicted Bharti for various offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code, including sections 323, 353 and 147. The court, however, had acquitted Bharti's associates and co-accused - Jagat Saini, Dileep Jha, Sandeep Sonu and Rakesh Pandey — citing lack of evidence.

AAP amends party
rules at council meet

HT Correspondent
htreporters@hindustantimes.com

NEW DELHI: The Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) on Thursday passed six amendments in the party constitution in its national council meeting held in Delhi – the first after it won the Delhi assembly elections in February 2020 with a majority of 62 out of 70 seats.

Sisodia said, "The amendments would help the party grow across states."

The new amendments allow the party to induct recruits and give them election tickets irrespective of the number of people in their families who have contested elections. They prohibit members of the party to flag concerns and share criticism regarding the party and the leadership in public domain, and allow interim appointment of office bearers by national and state executives in case of sudden vacancies, said Delhi's deputy chief minister and senior AAP leader Manish Sisodia in a press conference after the meeting.

Sharing a list of amendments passed on Thursday, Sisodia said, "District level units of the party will now be considered as its primary units, instead of booth-level units under the old clauses, and MPs and MLAs of the party will by default become members of the national council and the concerned state council, so that they can contribute to the party's growth without any delay."

He added, "Also, party members will have full permission to take up concerns about the party, behaviour of other members, or criticise the leadership in designated communication forums of the party, but they cannot do that outside those forums or in public domain... We have also decided that from now on the state council or the national council meeting can take place virtually and it will be valid."

"Earlier, there was a clause in the party's constitution that said two people from the same family cannot fight the election. This rule will be only valid for the existing members of the AAP. But we are witnessing that many new leaders are joining our party whose two family members have contested elections. In such cases, the party has decided to allow such people to join, contest elections and work for the AAP. The amendment would apply to new recruits," he added.

There is a clause in the party's constitution which says that no member will hold the same post as an office-bearer for more than two consecutive terms of three years each. However, party convener Arvind Kejriwal has held the same position for two terms which ended in April 2019, but it was extended for one year in view of the Lok Sabha and Delhi assembly elections. But in 2020, the national council meeting could not take place because of the Covid-19 pandemic.

8,244 health workers get
Covid-19 shots in Capital

Anonna Dutt

NEW DELHI: Of the 10,600 intended beneficiaries on Thursday, 8,244 received Covid-19 vaccine in Delhi, the highest number of people taking the shot in a single day ever since the nationwide drive began on January 16, according to official records.

The government also opened 25 new vaccination sites in the city. Both central and south districts saw highest increase in the number of vaccination centres with four additional sites each.

"The sites were increased in places that saw high turnouts – over 90% — for the last couple of days when the number of people getting the shot went up," said a senior official from Delhi's health department.

Thirty four hospitals in the city were able to administer 100 vaccines on Thursday, including 10 hospitals run by the Delhi government, according to government officials. According to city hospitals, the high turnout is the result of a tweak in the government's CoWIN platform that allows walk-in beneficiaries even if their names are not on the day's list.

A senior doctor from Central government-run Lady Hardinge Medical College said, "Only about 50% of the people who are called in for vaccination each day actually come to the centre for vaccination. Health care workers are still hesitant to get the vaccines but there are also people who are on leave or in quarantine and cannot come. Also, a few people are sent back each day because of contraindication. So, we were able to vaccinate more people by allowing walk in."

On Thursday, south-east Delhi saw the highest turnout with 89.8% of the beneficiaries getting the shot. And, the lowest turnout was in Northeast Delhi where 62.7% people received the jab. This, however, is better than the 53.3% average vaccination that happened across the city on January 16 when the nationwide drive was rolled out. "As more and more people are getting vaccinated, the others are realising that there is no serious side effect of the vaccines and more and more people are turning up. The numbers are expected to improve further," said the doctor from Lok Nayak hospital.

As on Thursday, 47,959 health workers have received the vaccine out of the estimated 300,000 who will get it. Those who have taken the shot will be given a second dose of the vaccine in 28 days.
