Edu Minister backs JNU V-C on counter-terrorism course

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI, SEPTEMBER 3

EDUCATION MINISTER Dharmendra Pradhan has backed the Jawaharlal Nehru University vice-chancellor (V-C) in the controversy over the new course on counter-terrorism meant for engineering students.

Speaking at a meeting of central university V-Cs Friday, Pradhan congratulated M Jagadesh Kumar and his team for introducing the course that has been criticised for singling out a religion as the only form of fundamentalist-religious terrorism. In his opening remarks, Pradhan asked that if MIT can discuss counter-terrorism measures, why can't an Indian university do the same?

The course, titled 'Counter Terrorism, Asymmetric Conflicts and Strategies for Cooperation among Major Powers,' asserts that "Jihadi terrorism" is the only form of "fundamentalist-religious terrorism." It also states that the erstwhile Soviet Union and China were the "predominant statesponsors of terrorism" that influenced "radical Islamic states".

The course will be offered to students pursuing an MS with specialisation in International Relations after a BTech in Engineering — online classes for the monsoon semester start on September 20. The Indian Express had first reported on August 30 that the course was passed in the academic council, allegedly without discussion, on August 17.

The university, subsequently, came in for a lot of criticism with one Parliament MP, CPI's Binoy Viswam, even writing to Pradhan against the new course alleging it will "communalise and politicise geopolitical issues."

Alluding to Viswam's missive, Pradhan said, "Recently a colleague from Parliament wrote to me about asking why JNU has introduced a course on terrorism. Friends, some time ago, when I was in the US, I was getting briefed by senior American officers on terrorism... during that briefing, I learned that technology and cyber warheads been adopted by terrorists to further their objectives."

Pradhan was possibly referring to the one of the new course's modules, titled 'Fundamentalistreligious Terrorism and its Impact', that states: "The exploitation of the cyberspace by the radical Islamic religious clerics has resulted in electronic propagation of jihadi terrorism world over. Online electronic dissemination of Jihadi terrorism has resulted in the spurt of violence in non-Islamic societies that are secular and are now increasingly vulnerable to the violence that (is) on the increase."

The minister said further, "Our engineers today are not just engineers. They are involved in building social products. So if a course helps engineering students understand the kind of hindrances they could face in the development of social products, then I congratulate INU for introducing such a course."

Earlier this week, Kumar defended the course saying that it was "holistic" and would give students "broad-based knowledge" of the subject.

"During the past few days, there was a needless controversy... without going into the academic merits of the course. The objective of the course, 'Counter Terrorism, Asymmetric Conflicts and Strategies for Cooperation among Major Powers', is mainly to have an in-depth understanding on the challenges emanating from terrorism to India's national security and how India can get equipped with adequate responses in case of any eventuality," he had said.

Officer who framed chargesheet communal, Umar Khalid tells court

ANAND MOHAN J

NEW DELHI. SEPTEMBER 3

FORMER INU student Umar Khalid's lawyer told a Delhi court Friday that the chargesheet filed against his client in a Northeast Delhi riots case under the UAPA painted him as communal, but "it is the officer who drafted the report and his mind (who) was communal".

The arguments were addressed by senior advocate Trideep Pais, who told Additional Sessions Judge Amitabh Rawat that the chargesheet sounded like a television channel script.

Pais drew parallels between statements carried in the chargesheet to Harry Potter villain Voldemort's references, among other examples, to state that the final report filed by the police was "rubbish" and "no one should be arrested in this case".

Pais began the arguments by stating that the "witness statements are being fabricated against me (Khalid)" and a protected witness was "speaking in forked tongues". "One of the biggest theories is that there was a conspiracy on January 8. The protected witness, Saturn, either speaks under pressure or with a forked tongue," Pais told the court.

Pais submitted that this protected witness has "made a different, inconsistent statement in another FIR, you cannot take it seriously".

"You cannot put statements in water tight compartments," Pais told the court.

"The chargesheet goes on to paint Umar as communal"

"I am not for a moment going to labour on malice. How much more malice can I show? I'm trying to tell that there is no way these statements are consistent with each other in order to meet the test of UAPA," Pais told the court. Pais further said there are disturbing facts in the chargesheet, which is the "fertile imagination of the police officer who drafted it".

Pais read out a portion of the chargesheet, which read, "Umar Khalid, a veteran of sedition." "Is this how chargesheets are written? It seems like a script of some news channel. Where did they get this from? 'Harbinger of the call: Bharat Tere Tukde Honge.' -- Yeh kahan se mila? (Where did you get this from)," Pais submitted.

Pais then apprised the court of the sedition case registered against Umar in 2016. He submitted, "Nowhere was it ever alleged that 'Bharat Tere Tukde Honge' was ever said by Umar Khalid. Transcript of 2016 chargesheet is here."

Arguing that the present FIR is "a complete lie", Pais submitted, "This is the police version. I am not saying Umar Khalid said it."

"As you go along, you will see there is no basis for any statement. When you procure a statement and read against me, a statement which is unreliable. You don't give proof because there isn't, because you are lying. What I have shown is that there is a white lie," Pais said.

On allegations that Umar was maintaining a facade of secular politics, Pais said this statement was a "figment of imagination of the police". "This is the danger... this statement reads like a 9 pm TV news channel script... those shouting news channels."

On allegations that Umar kept a safe distance from Delhi as he knew that "Delhi will be thrown into the fire", his lawyer said, "The last person who travelled with someone and got into his mind was Voldemort from Harry Potter. Mere mind mein ghus gaye? (He entered my mind)."

Pais read out from the chargesheet that "no amount of rhetoric and obfuscation of facts will be enough to brainwash the Indian Muslims into actually believing that CAA would question their nationality". "What is this? How does this officer who is writing this know this? They are making me into a criminal to propagate this agenda. Again he goes into my mind and says what Indian Muslims would like and not like... Nobody deserves to be arrested in this FIR," Pais argued.

English syllabus row: 108 teachers object to DU Registrar's statement

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI, SEPTEMBER 3

OVER 100 English teachers of Delhi University have objected to "multiple falsehoods and misrepresentations" in Registrar Vikas Gupta's statement on the syllabus for the course, which he said was "inclusive" and had been passed through a "democratic process". Gupta's statement had come in response to criticism over the decision by DU's Oversight Committee to remove two Dalit authors — Bama and Sukirtharani and renowned author Mahasweta Devi's short story 'Draupadi' from the fifth semester

English syllabus. 108 teachers from 41 colleges, including those who are part of subcommittees to formulate the English syllabus, have demanded

"It is ironic that the... statement by the University claims to support a syllabus that is inclusive, while in fact, it has done everything in its power to exclude diverse voices. Furthermore, those excluded are already members of a historically excluded community. The voices that have been throttled are those of Dalit and non-Dalit women writers writing about Dalit/Tribal women," they said in a statement.

They also criticised the Registrar for saying the syllabus was "designed by the Department of English" and "finalised" after "due deliberation with and recommendations" of the Head of Department, and alleged the HoD's approval was "obtained through coercion".

When contacted, Gupta said the information in the press release was "100% correct as per the facts available". HoD Raj Kumar confirmed that he gave approval only because the syllabus was "being held for months".

A teacher who signed the statement said it had been signed only by permanent teachers, as Ad-hoc teachers feared persecution by the administration.

The PWD has prepared a design for the room's renovation, he said, and it is likely to be ready by August 15 next year. The Legislative Assembly is currently open to public on Independence Day and Republic Day. As for the tunnel, the horse-

PROPOSAL TO STATES

Bring entire distribution network under STUs, says power ministry

DEEPA JAINANI Lucknow, September 3

THE UNION POWER ministry has proposed to bring all 33 kV systems, currently maintained by state distribution companies (discoms), under state transmission utilities (STUs) with an aim to improve the power distribution system.

It has advised state governments to form joint venture companies with Powergrid if they cannot provide financial assistance to STUs to upgrade and modernise the system.

In a September 1 letter to all state governments and union territories, the ministry has said state discoms should hand over the 33 kV system to the STUs for better planning, loss reduction and increased supply reliability in a phased manner.

In the first phase, incremental assets in the 33 kV network and existing overloaded assets can be handed over to STUs, and the respective state governments will have to provide financial assistance to the STUs to upgrade and modernise their 33 kV assets.

If the state governments are not in a position to do so, the STU can form a joint venture with Powergrid on a 50:50 equity basis. Powergrid has already been advised by the power ministry to form joint ventures with STUs wherever the state government approaches it.

The letter, which has been accessed by FE, said the "subtransmission system", which is critical for reliability of power supply system, is beset with problems of higher losses and inefficient performance. The ministry had constituted a committee under the chairmanship of CMD, Powergrid, with representatives from the Central Electricity Authority, STUs of Haryana, Maharashtra and Odisha, and Central Transmission Utility of India, to suggest measures to reduce losses in the sub-transmission system and ensure efficient performance.

According to the letter, the committee, after collecting information from 25 STUs and 30 discoms on the performance of the utilities at different voltage levels, observed that losses at the 33 kV level are about 4.8%, while at the 66 kV-220 kV level, they are only 1.72-2.39%.

BRANCH NAME

Place: Gurugram

There is considerable scope for improvement of the 33 kV system's performance, it said.

"Based on the findings, the committee has recommended that ... the 33 kV system must be bought under State Transmission Utility," the letter said.

"Due to the poor financial health of discoms, the coordinated planning and expansion of 33kV system, including adoption of new technologies and the overall operation and maintenance levels, is not comparable to that at 66 kV and above voltage levels...," the letter said.

It said if losses can be reduced from 4% to 3%, 8.99 billion unit per annum energy could be saved, and incremental revenue to states would be ₹4,495 crore per annum (assuming rate of electricity at ₹5 per unit). If the availability of 33 kV system can improve by 0.75%, then an additional 6.74 billion unit per annum would be available to end consumers, which could bring an additional revenue of ₹3,370 crore per annum (assuming rate of electricity at ₹5 per unit), it said.

AIPEF has strongly opposed the plan. "The move is an attempt to control electricity in states and is aimed at finishing government discoms to facilitate private suppliers...," AIPEF chairman Shailendra Dubey said.

ISMA urges PMO to immediately hike sugar MSP

DEEPA JAINANI Lucknow, September 3

WITH THE NEW sugar season round the corner, the Indian Sugar Mills Association (ISMA) has written to the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) to immediately increase the minimum sale price (MSP) of sugar from ₹31 per kg to ₹35 per kg to prevent shortage of liquidity with mills and the resultant high cane price arrears in the next season.

In a letter to the principal secretary to the prime minister. ISMA president Niraj Shirgaokar said the MSP for sugar was last revised in February 2019, after which the fair and remunerative price (FRP) of sugarcane has been increased twice, amounting to a total increase of ₹15 per quintal of sugarcane. Besides, there has been a 10-15% increase in the cost of inputs, raw material, salary and wages, and maintenance costs, making it difficult for sugar mills to clear sugarcane payments.

"The sugar sector feels that the government is not being fair to the sugar producers by not announcing an increase in the MSP for over 30 months, even after continuously increasing the price of sugarcane (which contributes 70-75% of our costs). It is but natural that our revenue realisation will not be adequate any more to enable us to pay the cane price to the farmers, as fixed by the government, and repay the loans of the banks on time," Shirgaokar said.

The letter said the Sugar Price (Control) Order, 2018, says the central government shall, at the time of issuing an order regarding price of sugar for sale, take into consideration the fair and remunerative price of sugarcane, conversion costs for production of sugar from sugarcane, realisation of profit from by-products generated in the process of sugar production and such other costs as it may consider relevant.

"Therefore, it is very fair and reasonable for the sugar industry to hope and expect that whenever there is any increase in the FRP of sugarcane along with any other increase in other costs, including in the conversion cost of cane to sugar, the central government would immediately also announce an increase in the MSP of sugar," Shirgaokar said.

He said various institutions have recommended an increase in the MSP to ₹33 per kg, includ ing the committee of secretaries, the group of ministers under the chairmanship of home minister Amit Shah, the governments of Uttar Pradesh Maharashtra, Karnataka and Bihar, and the two apex bodies representing the sugar industry ISMA and NFCSF. Even Niti Aayog and CACP have recommended rationalisation of the sugarcane pricing policy.

BSNL 4G trials: SIs yet to conclude commercial proposal, says Pertsol

DOMESTIC TELECOM FIRM Pertsol, which has partnered with Tech Mahindra, HFCL and L&T to provide a core network

Pertsol, however, said it has successfully delivered many mission-critical solutions to BSNL, including lawful interception and fraud management, and has recently also implemented its packet core in BSNL Chennai.

"In BSNL 4G expression of interest (EoI), considering there was no option for individual OEM to participate directly due to financial qualification, Pertsol partnered with three leading SIs who met financial qualification of the EoI. Pertsol has also invited SIs to demonstrate end-to-end core solution as per BSNL EoI," the company told FE.

"Moreover, TCS is investing heavily in this programme to set up a separate vertical for telecom solutions for 4G/5G, which is evident from their recent acquisition of Tejas, and CDoT being public sector unit, probability of TCS becoming vendor of choice is imminent," it said.

BSNL had selected TCS, Tech Mahindra, HFCL, L&T and ITI to carry out 4G trials at select locations with their core and radio network partners. Since, apart from TCS, all the selected firms have chosen Pertsol as their core network partner, if there are issues between the companies, only TCS will remain in the fray.
