BENGAL BATTLE

of the seventh phase of the general elections on June 1, when nine seats in state capital Kolkata, South 24 Parganas and North 24 Parganas are scheduled to go to the polls. This is a crucial phase for both the Bharatiya Janata Party, which performed impressively in other parts of the state but drew a blank here in 2019, and the TMC, which is looking to defend its fortress in West Bengal.

With just four days to go, Modi slumped the TMC for its tardy entry into the judiciary over the high court verdict. "I was taken aback. Questions are now being raised on the intention of the judges and the judiciary. I want to ask the TMC whether they would now unleash its goons on the judges. The entire nation is seeing how the TMC is throttling the judiciary," Modi said at Barasat in North 24 Parganas.

Earlier in the day, the PM mounted an attack on the TMC on multiple fronts, including alleged appeasement politics, corruption, opposition of the Citizenship Amendment Act, recent controversies involving some senators, and allegations of sexual assault on women in Sandeshkhali.

The Trimurti has started Hindoo monks and ascetics, Ramakrishna Mission, ISKCON and Bharat Sevashram Sangha are respected all over the world. But TMC has started abusing them to carry forward its agenda of vote jihad," he said.

He was referring to Banerjee's statements on May 18 in which he had accused the party of aiding and abetting the TMC in its efforts of helping the BJP, prompting a raft of criticism.

Banerjee later said that she wasn't against the organisation.

Later in the day, in Barasat, Modi asked the people to vote for the BJP.

"Ask 100 people as to which government is coming to power, 90 will say that it is the Modi government. I am certain that the Modi government is coming so why waste votes? Your votes should be used to strengthen the government at the Centre."

The TMC supremo, too, stepped up his ante against the BJP-led Centre and the Prime Minister.

"I am sad that khana-khana chowkidar celluates around 77 constituencies since 2010, an overwhelming majority of them Muslim, in West Bengal, observing that such reservations were 'illegal'."

"Religion in deed appears to have been the sole criterion" for declaring these communities as OBCs, the court said, adding that "it is of the view that the selection of 77 classes of Muslims backwards is an affront to the Muslim community as a whole".

The state government has said that it will move the Supreme Court against the verdict.

"It is quite evident that TMC doesn't like those who expose its treachery and lies... I am astonished to see how the party is attacking the judiciary. Don't they have any faith in the judiciary and our Constitution?" Modi asked.

Hours later, Banerjee hit back. "A few days back 15 million OBC certificates were scrapped. I don't accept this order. I am a lawyer too. I can't say anything against judges but I can speak against the judgment," Banerjee said on Tuesday evening in Bahala.

"He will be able to call himself Prime Minister for another week or so. After that he will have to use the word former. Today he said he monitored the cyclone from Delhi. It is a blant. Does it suit him? Telling lies is not the PM's constitutional right," Banerjee said.

She was referring to the Monday night cyclone in Assam where the Prime Minister said: "We all faced the cyclone with the blessings of Goddess Kali. The Union government was constantly monitoring it. I was also in constant touch. NDRF and other teams did a good job. The Centre is providing all help to the state."

In the evening, Modi held his first press conference in Kohima. The vibrant cavalcade started from the Shyambazar crossing. He paid tribute to Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose at a statue at Shyambazar before starting his roadshow.

The roadshow terminated at the ancestral residence of Swami Vivekananda on Simla Street in North Kolkata, with people thronging the route. Banerjee, meanwhile, walked 9km in her two roadshows. In the first, she walked from Birati Banik More to Airport gate number two on Joros Road. In the second, she walked from Entally Market in the northern part of the city to Bagbazar Phari in south Kolkata.
